Calendar of Activities

July 14 - REPLAY/BEST

Bring school requirements when coming to class

Beginning July 19, 2010, all school requirements like assignments, projects, class materials, P.E. uniforms, and the like should be brought by the students when they come to school in the morning. Drivers/caregivers are no longer allowed to bring the class requirements later in the day since this causes destruction in the classes of the intended recipients.

All students should be responsible to prepare the things they will need in class and bring them to school.

Standards-Based Assessment

Our student from Senior Prep to High School III were given Standards Based Assessment (SBA) pretests in the core subjects, namely English Language Arts, Mathematics, and Science. Standards Based Assessment or SBA is an effective tool in assessing international benchmarks. The objective of the tests is to make the learners master the competencies required of them in their level.

The results of the test will help the teachers in identifying the learners' areas of strengths and weaknesses. The post test is scheduled in February until the first week of March. By then, the teachers, with the help and support of the parents, would have addressed the learning needs of our students.

Accomplish Fetcher's Pass for your child's security

The Fetcher's Pass Form was given to all SMC students to identify the authorized persons who will pick up your children/wards after class hours. The pass is a requirement in picking up your children/wards every school day and ensures the safety and security of your children/ward on the campus.

Parents with more than one child to be picked up may accomplish only one Fetcher's Pass Form unless there are separate fetchers for each child.

Parenting Corner

Raising successful children

Raising children takes patience, skill, and involvement. They do not need another chum; they need guidance, structure, and, yes, sometimes discipline.

1. Ask about their homework - what it is, when it's due - and check to make sure they do it.
2. Provide a quiet place, with a good light and away from distractions, for them to do homework.
3. Make sure they get a good sleep each night and eat a healthy, substantial breakfast each morning.
4. Talk to them about school for at least a few minutes each day to let them know you're interested in their studies and that you think school is important.
5. Teach them respect for others and responsibility for their own behavior.
6. Make sure they get regular health and dental check-ups.
7. Limit children's exposure to television and video games.
8. Be positive about school. If parents say "I wasn't good at school" or "I really didn't like school," this can turn children away from learning.
9. Check your children's school websites regularly to keep yourself informed.
